The Valley's original local Winecafé, Postino began in 2001 with a vision and some homegrown determination. After renovating the historic Arcadia Post Office Building, the partners built a foundation with unique, approachable wines; simple, delicious food prepared with local ingredients; and a warm, edgy culture that brings everyone together.

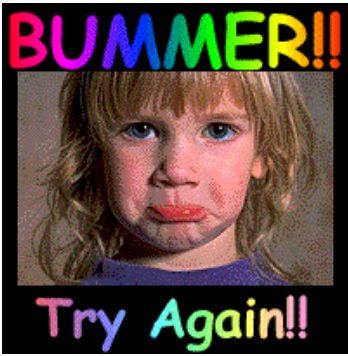

Today, Postino continues this tradition with four unique locations, each set in historically relevant buildings integral to the neighborhoods that surround them.

Postino Wine Cafe is an equal opportunity employer.

Careful reading of the job description will leave you clueless as to what they are looking for or what skill level they need. Also remember since this is an online application, the only thing that they will know about you is what you put into the application. It might be wise...grasshopper...to head over to ONET Online and use the DOL's 6 page (very detailed) job description as the base to get their attention. Remember, people (soft skills) are as important (if not more so) than your technical abilities.

TIPSTER: Hey Campers! Better way (hint...wink...wink...hint...hint!) would be to select the closest location to where you are or where you want to be...go over between 2-4PM and start a conversation "I just moved into the neighborhood and I thought that I would come in and introduce myself and I would appreciate if someone could talk to me about upcoming openings..." then, continue on about your skills, talent and desire to work there (having done your prep work to know who they are and what makes them special goes a long way with impressing them about how serious you are about working there.

*Have you been convicted of a felony, or been incarcerated in connection with a felony, in the past 10 years? If you answered "Yes", please explain.

NOTE: This is new as they never asked on the application other than to say that they reserved the right to do a background check (if they felt a need to)...So, this is all new but, I would still contact the venue (without giving them my real name) and see to the extent that they use this in the hiring process (you might be pleasantly surprised by the answer you get...)

Housed in the restored 1950's First Federal Bank building designed by Al Beadle, Federal Pizza is a midcentury-meets-modern restaurant specializing in wood fired pizzas, sandwiches, pastas, and salads. Also not to miss are our selection of wines, old school wine coolers and craft beer.

<http://www.federalpizza.com/unch-menu/>

Here's What's Important to Us:

Power to the People: We value everyone! Our dedication to the people we interact with on a daily basis defines our culture.

Keepin' it real: We continue to encourage one another to raise the bar.

Humble Beginnings: We promise to never forget where we came from.

Come one Come All: Sink or swim, rise and fall, whatever it is we do it together.

Inspired Spaces: Our interest in adaptive reuse stems from the desire to change perspective and give second chances.

Here's who we are looking for:

- Super friendly people who put their team before themselves- we're a tight-knit crew!
- People who come to work looking to take over the world (no evil geniuses!)
- Mind readers (people who can anticipate other's needs!)
- High-energy, explosive people who love this industry People who are themselves. Always.

How do you get on Board?

Go to www.upwardprojects.com and scroll down to 'Job Opportunities' and fill out our application!

NOTE: Who is to say that you shouldn't just walk in between 2-4 PM and to your (now standard song-N-dance). What could it hurt? Just thinking (dangerous at my advanced age with brain shrinkage and all), if you followed the 11th Commandment of Job Searching (You shall do your prep work on your talking points, the wearing of clean - none smelly clothes and start your conversation with "I live in the neighborhood...") you might stand a better chance at getting these jobs.

NOTE: Again the job descriptions are frightenly terrible and leave you saying "WTF?" We are guess-a-mating that for the cooks you need about a year under your belt (less if you are really good...challenge them to a cook off if you know your stuff) but, then again, how would you know they wouldn't like you enough to train you without going over to introduce yourself.

Dishwashers are gonna be hired on your availability and the power of your desire to convince them that you need to be working there...here a good story mixed with your prep will carry you over the hiring line, every time.

IMPORTANT: They do not need to hire you. You have to do your job as a job seeker in picking jobs that you really want to do, at places you really want to work and that you are willing to invest the upfront time to prepare yourself to impress them. If this isn't you or it is too much time to invest in getting this job, stay home or go back and give Burger king another plead to hire you!

Benefits:

- Flexible hours
- Weekly paychecks
- 25% discount for Breadheads and their families
- A fun, fast-paced, and professional work environment -
- Breadhead celebrations/incentives
- Opportunities for cross-training and career advancement

Our Breadheads (employees) change lives, create traditions, build community and feed the soul with passion. Every time, every day. Would you like to contribute to our purpose? Sure, we've grown tremendously over the past few years. But the exciting part is we're just getting started. – Sam Fox

Prep Cook - City Scape - 2 E Jefferson St. Phoenix, AZ 85004

The Arrogant Butcher is nestled in the heart of Downtown Phoenix and is the perfect spot to enjoy dinner and drinks before a game or lunch on the patio. The Arrogant Butcher offers guests the works - seafood, steaks, draft beer, wine and cocktails, comfort food, good company and great service—that's where you come in. The Arrogant Butcher is currently looking for a Server to add to the team.

Here's what you'll do:

- Prepare amazing fare from scratch following our recipes to produce consistent results
- Complete your prep list, efficiently run your station during the shift, follow all specs, and stock food as needed
- Rinse and cut raw food products
- Portion all the products, follow the recipes, and always make sure the plate presentation looks great
- Keep it clean! Follow the sanitization standards, make sure your work station stays clean and organized, and follow all of the food handling standards

You need to be:

Someone who loves cooking! You're someone who is consistently awesome and has an eye for the important details.

Being able to hang in a fast paced environment is vital, and if you have prior experience to prove it, that's even better.

Speaking and understanding English is a must, and so is being comfortable standing for long periods of time.

You'll need to show off your muscles from time to time, so be able to lift up to 50 pounds.

A great attitude and the flexibility in your schedule to work weekends and some holidays are the last ingredients to being part of our team.

<https://sjobs.brassring.com/TGWebHost/home.aspx?partnerid=25736&siteid=5030>

What makes FedEx Ground one of the nation's top workplaces? The answer is simple: The people behind our outstanding service. In fact, our "People First" philosophy is the guiding principle for every decision we make. As a result, FedEx consistently ranks among "the best places to work."

Package Handler Hiring Process

FedEx Ground is currently searching for package handlers in several facilities throughout our growing network. In order to be considered for one of these positions, you must successfully complete the following three steps:

1. Attend a Sort Observation - A sort observation is a brief tour of our facility. Please register for only one tour per location by searching here. You are only eligible to apply at the location(s) where you attended a sort observation. Check back often, as new sort observations are added on a regular basis.
2. Apply for a Position - After your tour, you will receive an email with a link to apply. You must attend a sort observation and complete an application for each location at which you would like to be considered for employment as a package handler.
3. Interview - You may be contacted for a brief onsite interview.
